

Your Best
Chance To Experience
Monarch
Butterflies
Migrating Past
The Arch!

Saturday
September 30th
9 a.m. to noon

2017 National Public Lands Day At The Arch

Join the City of St. Louis, National Park Service and pollinator experts from the MBG, Butterfly House & Saint Louis Zoo for a special morning of monarch-themed activities at the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial (at the Arch's Luther Ely Smith Square):

Enter a Photo Contest – Will you see monarchs flying past the Arch?

Try Out Citizen Science Apps

Hear a Pollinator Talk

Learn About Monarch Gardening

Don Wings for a Flight of Fancy

Make An Insect Hotel

Create a Butterfly Painting

Plus free breakfast, prizes and $3 off tram rides to the top of the Arch

Detailed schedule posted soon: stlouis-mo.gov/monarchs

Other National Public Lands Day Events At the Arch on September 30th:

Have a driftwood art project or want to help collect Riverfront debris? Participate in the Great Mississippi River Clean Up from 9 a.m.-noon. Register with Erin (314) 241-1244; meet at the Arch Grand Staircase.

Come hear the United States Air Force Band of Mid-America as it performs a free concert on the Gateway Arch Riverfront at 6:00 p.m. to celebrate the national legacy of music and marches, pop and jazz.

Saint Louis Zoo
Animals Always®